

Free Affiliate Program Training To Become A Top Affiliate And Earn More Profits¹

by
Alvin Chung²
<http://www.chungsite.com>

If you want to become a top affiliate and earn more profits from your affiliate program then you must train yourself. You do not have to spend a fortune on the thousands of proprietary training or mentoring products and services that flood the Internet.

Why spend your hard-earned money subscribing to such programs that only promise to make you the best affiliate and skyrocket your profits but seldom give good results. They are just promises and more often than not, you still have to spend time, effort and often more money to work these programs effectively. On the other hand, you can get yourself trained for free by joining the right affiliate program.

You pick a reputable company whose products and services you have confidence in. You join their affiliate program. Then you train yourself by following these simple and practical steps without spending any money.

Most companies have some kind of on-line training program for their new affiliates. It can be a simple training module but the better ones have continuing life-long training and self-development programs.

The training program is usually located at the company's communication center where members can get access anytime they wish. You should make it a habit to visit this affiliate center as often as possible because it normally has lots of other resources that can help improve your Internet marketing skills.

The training materials are most often written by professionals or experienced members of the company. At the bottom of the lessons you will generally find the author's name and a resource box with a link to the author's website. You follow this link with the purpose of learning to be the best affiliate. You must stay focused or you will soon be lost somewhere surfing aimlessly, not even remembering what you were trying to do. During this time, don't get distracted by new opportunities or fantastic offers. If you can't resist, then take out a note pad, jot down the links and come back to them later. You will be amazed by what you can find at the author's website. There are probably loads of good on-line marketing tips and resources not found in your affiliate center.

1 <http://ezinearticles.com/?id=1049273>

2 Alvin owns ChungSite.com. And also operates a training course at <http://www.chungsite.com/sfisuccess.html/>

You can also learn valuable free lessons to be a top affiliate from your fellow affiliates who have achieved success with the program. Most companies regularly post profiles of top achievers or performers to motivate new members. Check out their success stories. Read and learn from their experiences. If they have their own websites, visit them and find out what they are doing that enable them to make more money than you do. Contact them through the phone or e-mails. They will be too happy to share their success stories with you when they know you are a fellow affiliate who wants to make it big like them.

Another great place to learn more about becoming a top affiliate is the forum groups. Good companies most often provide discussion boards as stomping grounds for affiliates to share ideas and experiences, find answers to problems, make friends and forge partnerships. You join the forums not only to learn from others but to contribute and add value to the discussions. Doing your part of caring and sharing with your fellow members is the best lesson you will learn if you want to be a top affiliate of your affiliate program.

Now that you have visited all the places mentioned and learned about the experiences and success stories of the veterans, you make a list of all the habits, practices and activities of these successful people whom you have identified.

You do these practices and activities on a regularly basis, whether it be daily or weekly. You need to be consistent and persistent and not afraid of failures. Any time you need to motivate yourself, just go back and read their stories. If they can do it, so can you.

Over time, you will develop profitable habits that will enable you to become the top affiliate in your affiliate program. You get trained for free without spending any money and at the same time you earn more money. All you have to do is dream what they dream, think what they think, do what they do, and you will earn what they earn.

Author's Resource Box:

Alvin Chung is the owner of <http://www.chungsite.com> - a website dedicated to helping newbies to Internet marketing achieve success. Alvin is also an affiliate of Strong Future International and operates a site at <http://www.chungsite.com/sfisuccess.html> that teaches new team members to get started with free resources from the Internet.

